Canal Narrowboat Art - Roses and Castles. Roses and Castles has become the popular generic name for the naturalistic and pictorial elements of the traditional paintwork of the narrow canal boats. Canal Folk Art Canal Arts, 'Roses and Castles' decoration, narrowboat & barge signwriting and painters. written and illustrated by Tony Lewery. The folk arts of the English canals are unusual because they were apparently born without clear historical ancestors, the origins of part of this traditional culture still remain a mystery. Roses & Castles Courses. If you would like to learn to paint in the traditional 'roses and castles' style, then why not come along to one of my two-day painting courses! How to Paint a Boat. As your boat begins to crack and fade after several years in the water, you have two choices -- hire a professional boat yard to paint it again or do it yourself. Painting a boat takes a lot of time and effort, from...
